Gift is near to receiving the gift of eternal life...

Dear Pastors, Churches and Praying Friends,

Vincent told me, "He just believed that God called him, and so he opened his church."

Now his 'church' has grown, but from the very beginning, he knew nothing of how to be born again. Obviously, those who attend are also without Christ.

After doing the Gospel Lessons online, Gift began to realize that he needs to be saved the Bible way. He has passed from thinking he is a good man so God will accept him to realizing his sin before God.

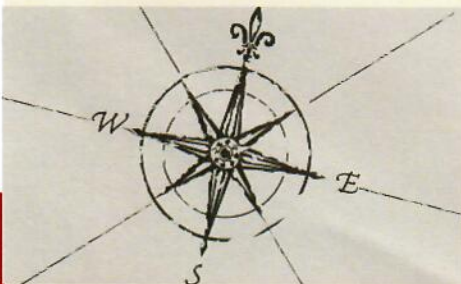

After I worked with him on WhatsApp, I could tell he was not understanding me well due to language issues. So Vincent was willing to visit him this week in Malawi and explain the way of God more perfectly in his heart language, Chichewa.

Gift has already begun to teach many others what he is learning. Not only is he teaching the people that attend his 'church,' but he has connections with the police and is instructing them as best he can.

Gift is very eager to understand well so he can put his trust in Christ for salvation.

I stand amazed again at how there are 'churches' and 'pastors' here that do not understand the basic foundations of Bible salvation, and yet they long to know more of God. Connecting with men like Gift is a joy. Yes, there are many who will not bow their knee, but there are also many who are open to truth. They are the ones we seek. These key men provide an open door to many others who will then hear the Word of God.

We have seen so many doors open this month for the gospel. New lessons have been delivered to two more prisons in Zimbabwe. There are others to visit in October. The prison doors have been encouraging as they have swung open wide.

Thulani has reached out in a new village and has a preaching point started there after applying the instruction from our Ministry Workshop in July.

Now we are preparing for our next Workshop that is happening next week. I have 3 men helping me do the teaching, including two African men and my youngest son Samuel who is coming from the USA to help.

Would you pray for this Workshop? Our focus is on reaching key men who in turn will reach others also.

God mightily used the last Workshop, and I expect He will use this one as well. But there are many obstacles at present. Only your prayers will bring us to the place of God's blessing on the men who assemble.

Yours for the Souls of Men,

Douglas Hammett
